

The Caledonian Mercury.

Edinburgh, Monday, November 24, 1746.

Since our last arrived a Holland Mail.

From the London Gazette, Nov. 18.

Grace, in Provence, Nov. 11.

ON the 8th, after a grand Council of War, we took the Resolution to abandon the Banks of the Var, on account of the Difficulty of guarding that River, and of subsisting there. We have razed the Redoubts and Entrenchments which we had there, and have strengthened Antibes with every thing necessary for a good Defence. The Spaniards, who are but 10 Battalions, reduced in the whole to 2000 Men, are said to be going into Savoy to recruit. The Nobility of this Country, after the Example of those of Britany, are mounting and arming themselves for their Defence. The Enemy, who are re-united in the County of Nice, have already in part passed the Var. We believe the Castles of Montalban and Villa Franca have surrendered. It is assured that the King of Sardinia is upon his Departure for Turin, the Command of the Expedition being to be left to General Brown.

Hague, Nov. 25. We hear To-day by the Way of Paris, that the Austrians had passed the Var, and that the French Troops upon that River were retired to Grace. Sir John Ligonier and Lord Rother are arrived here To-day. We hear from Flanders, that 110 Men have been draughted out of each Battalion of all the Regiments of Militia, as well in that Country as in France, and also 5 Men per Company of the old Regiments, in order to be sent to Provence and Dauphiné. The Militia which were in Brussels had taken the same Route, and they reckoned to assemble an Army of 70 or 80,000 Men. It is also written, that an Order had been published for the Footmen at Paris to draw Lots for the Militia. There is a strong Report of some Enterprize being intended against Maestricht, and that a considerable Train of Artillery, which is at Maubeuge, with all Sorts of warlike Stores, only waited for Orders to be embarked upon the Sambre. The Light Troops of the Empress Queen, under the Command of General Trips, are cantoned about the Country of Liege. Letters from Paris of the 21st mention, that by the Advices they had received from Provence, it appeared that the French Troops had abandoned the Var, not being able to defend it, and were retired under Grace, by which both Antibes and Toulon were left exposed to the Enemy; and that the Spaniards were marched into Savoy to guard that Dutchy, the King of Sardinia threatening to attack it. Those Letters add farther, that an Account had been received the Day before, that the Austrians and Piedmontese had begun to pass the Var on the 9th, and had continued passing the following Days without any Opposition on the Part of the French Troops, who were too few to oppose them.

Whitehall, Nov. 18. The King has been pleased to appoint the Right Hon. John Earl of Sandwich to be his Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary to their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Provinces.

From Wye's Letter, London, Nov. 18.

The last Letters from Genoa are positive, that the Austrian and Sardinian Armies had passed the Var very happily, and driven the French out of three Posts, with the Loss of above 1000 French regular Troops, besides which a great many more Peasants were lost in the Defiles, after which they marched to Antibes.

We have not as yet any Account of the Woolwich Man of War being arrived on our Coast. She had on board in specie, upwards of 70,000 l. Sterl. on Account of the Merchants, who 'tis said, have Reason to retain some Hopes of the Arrival of the Remains of the Leeward Island Fleet.

Last Night, there was a great Assembly of the Ministers of State, at his Grace the Duke of Newcastle's in Lincolns-Innfields.

This Day, his Majesty opened the Sessions of Parliament with a most gracious Speech from the Throne, wherein he declared: 'That during the Recess, he had been particularly attentive to extinguish any Remains of the late Rebellion, and to re-establish the Tranquillity at Home. That in the mean Time, the State of the War abroad had received a considerable Alteration. That though France had made some further Progress in the Netherlands, yet the United Provinces had been saved from the Danger that threatened them at the Opening of the Campaign. That the Arms of the Queen of Hungary and King of Sardinia, had met with Success in Italy; that the Acquisitions made there by our Enemies, had been recovered from them, their Forces ruined and obliged to evacuate the Country, and that an Irruption is now actually making into Provence; whereby the Dilettess of that Kingdom must be increased, and a proportionable Diversion made in Favours of the Low Countries.'

'That whilst we are treating of Peace, Reason and good Policy demand, that we should be prepared for War, to which End he was actually concerting with his Allies, the proper Measures in vigorously pursuing the War in another Campaign, in Case the Obstinacy of our Enemies render it necessary. His Majesty expresses his Concern to be obliged to acquaint them, that the Funds appropriated for the Support of the Civil Government, have for some Years past, fallen short of the Revenue intended and granted by Parliament, he there-

'fore relied on their known Affect'ion, to find out a Method to make good the Deficiency.'

From the General Evening Post, Nov. 18.

L O N D O N , Nov. 18.

Extract of a private Letter from the Hague, Nov. 15.

It appears beyond Doubt, by all our Accounts from France, that Preparations are making for a Descent on some Part of the English Coast, while a grand, yet nameless, Exploit is performed in another Part.—— The French Ministry ever active and vigilant, were never more so, than at this Juncture; no less than three extraordinary Couriers were dispatched last Week, on the breaking up of a grand Council, one, as we are told, to Madrid, one to Berlin, and the other to Warsaw.

By another private Letter from the Hague, we learn, that the Austrians and Piedmonteze passed the Var on the 9th, 10th and 11th of November N. S. without the least Opposition; that the French will soon have an Army of 80,000 Men, chiefly Militia, in Provence; that they are preparing to attack Maelstricht, and that they have notified in Form to the Spanish Court their Resolution of carrying on the War in Italy.

On Saturday last the Court sat at St. Margaret's Hill, Southwark, for the Trial of the Rebels; when Alexander Buchanan, a Lad about 19 Years of Age, and a Captain in the Duke of Perth's Regiment, was tried and acquitted; it appearing, that he was forced into the Rebellion by the Duke of Perth, to whom his Father was a Tenant.

Then the Lord Chief Justice Lee passed Sentence of Death on the following twenty-two Persons for High-Treason, viz.

Sir James Kinloch, Bart.	James Stuart,
Rory Macculloch,	James Bradshaw,
John Hamilton, Governor	James Lindsay,
of the Castle of Carlisle,	Andrew Wood,
George Abernethy,	Allan Cameron,
John Burnet,	Sir John Wedderburn, Bart.
Charles Gordon,	Henry Kerr,
James Gordon,	Alexander Maclachlan,
Alexander Leith,	Thomas Watson,
Walter Mitchel,	Hector Mackenzie,
George Ramsay,	And
Francis Farquharson,	John Farquharson.

The Council for Alexander Kinloch and Charles Kinloch (Brothers of Sir James Kinloch) who likewise stand convicted of High-Treason, made a Motion in Arrest of Judgment, the Arguing of which is put off to Monday the 15th of December, to which time the Court adjourned.

The Fate of the Rebel Prisoners, convicted of High-Treason, is said to be as follows, Rory Macculloch, John Hamilton Governor of Carlisle Castle, John Burnet, Charles Gordon, Alexander Leith, Walter Mitchel, George Ramsay, James Bradshaw, Andrew Wood, Allan Cameron, Henry Kerr, Alexander Maclachlan, Thomas Watson, Hector Mackenzie, and John Farquharson, to suffer Death on Kennington-Common next Friday evening.

Sir James Kinloch Bart. Francis Farquharson, Sir John Wedderburn Bart. James Gordon, James Lindsay, George Abernethy to be reprieved. And,

That James Stuart will receive his Majesty's most gracious Pardon, on Account of his being instrumental in the saving the Life of a Principal, and other Officers; which, with other humane Actions at the Battle of Prestonpans, has occasioned great Intercessions in his Favour.

From the London Evening Post, Nov. 18.

Paris, Nov. 18. The Pope's Nuncio has had lately a long Audience of his Majesty, and we are informed that Remittances have been lately made to this City from Rome, to the Amount of 100,000 Crowns, which we conceive to be on the Behalf of the Pretender's two Sons.

Vienna, Nov. 12. It is very strongly reported, that a certain Court has made a very brisk Declaration with respect to the Invasion of Provence, and has thereupon received an Answer conceived in the same Language. As yet however we have no Certainty of this; but if we attend to Facts, the Thing cannot appear improbable, since our military Preparations are redoubled on all Sides; and as to the War of Italy in particular, the Ministry seem to afford it the utmost Attention, since we are assured that the Prince of Saxe-Hilburghausen will return speedily into Croatia, in order to march into that Country one half of his fine Regiment of Lycanians, which consists of 6 large Battalions.

Hague, Nov. 23. We have some Letters from Germany, which intimate that the Commission of Enquiry at Spandau proceeds very briskly, but as to the Nature of those Enquiries, those Letters are silent, which is no Wonder, if it be so penal as some say it is, to write any News out of that Country.

L O N D O N , Nov. 18.

Letters from Milan and Mantua, both dated the 12th Instant, N. S. informs us, that the Castle of Villa-franca surrendered at Discretion, which made all things ready for entering Provence.

Her Royal Highness the Princess Caroline continues ill at Bath of a nervous Distemper.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, dated Nov. 15.

I am sorry for the Loss of the Severn Man of War; but as the Captain behaved like an Englishman, and was engaged by two of superior Force for three Glasses till 7 Foot Water was in the Hold, he is deserving all due Praise for his Bravery; his Name is Lisle, and I am told the French Scoundrels stripped him. The Cartel between us and them is over for the present, which I am glad of in one Respect, as it is notoriously true, that many Prisoners discharged hence from Prison, and sent to France, have been retaken in Privateers, and in 14 Days have became Prisoners here again. The French Nation owes us 1300 Men Prisoners in Return: This is fine Management!

From the St. James's Evening Post, Nov. 18.

Vienna, Oct. 30. The Audience of General Bernes, our Minister at Berlin, is still put off till his Prussian Majesty's Return from Potsdam; which gives Room for some Conjecture. Lord Marshall, who has passed there, is gone for Venice.

The House of Lords, the 18th instant, appointed an Address to be presented to his Majesty for his gracious Speech from the Throne, acknowledging his Care to extinguish the Remains of the Rebellion, declaring their Satisfaction in the great Successes of the Austrian and Sardinian Arms in Italy, and in the Irruption now making into France; giving his Majesty the strongest Assurances that they will heartily concur in all Measures requisite to strengthen his Hands, either for procuring a good Peace, or prosecuting the War with Vigour.—At the same time the Duke of Newcastle presented to the House a Bill for the further continuing an Act made last Session, to empower his Majesty to secure and detain such Persons as his Majesty shall suspect are conspiring against his Person and Government; which being read twice, was committed to a Committee of the whole House, who went through the same by filling up the Blank with the 20th of February next: And the same being reported and agreed to, the Bill was ordered to be engrossed; and being read the third Time, was sent to the Commons for their Concurrence.
